Ermentrout, on the theory of teaching and history; by S. S. Jack, Esq., on the common branches; by Prof. J. H. Shoemaker, on circulating decimals, and by Prof. David Wilson, on rhetoric. Additional lectures, class drills and essays, were participated in by our own teachers. The other institute was held at M Coysville, on the 11th and 18th of January. Thirty-one teachers were in attendance. The exercises were class drills and lectures by the different teachers. EDUCATIONAL WORK DONE BY OTHER AGENCIES. Two of our county papers, the Juniata Republican and the Democrat and Register, have each a column set apart exclusively for educational purposes. We had some trouble at first to get teachers to take charge of those columns and act as editors, but we have now succeeded in getting persevering men to act as editors, and the columns are generally, filled every week, and they have now become a success, as some good literature is being furnished by the different teachers, and they are improving the opportunity of exchanging their views on the different topics pertaining to their calling. Private schools, as usual, are taught in a majority of the school houses during the summer season. The majority of these are taught by females, and the length of term from two to three months. Quite a number of these teachers are never examined, and teach a few scholars for a mere trifle, keeping good teachers out of...
