Who of us has not revelled in the stories of the old-time pioneers of the west? Well, here is the story of one of those men - the first white man to venture across into the great unknown. The early history of pierre radisson, the french-canadian who opened up the west, may be summed up as follows: when but just over sixteen years of age, he left the fort at three rivers, on the north bank of the st. Lawrence, on a hunting jaunt with a couple of young friends, and was captured by iroquois and carried inland to the mohawk country. He was...
